

PRESIDENT AND BRIDE GO SOUTH FOR HONEYMOON

Hot Springs, Virginia, Where Golfing and Motoring Are Good, Chosen As Retreat For the Newly-Weds Who Arrive Today

WEDDING JOURNEY IS BEGUN IN THE RAIN

President Pardoned Number of Convicts To Celebrate Occasion—Spent Very Busy Day At Capitol Before Ceremony

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

WASHINGTON, December 19.—President Wilson and his bride reach Hot Springs, Virginia, this morning at a quarter past eight o'clock for the first day of their honeymoon, which will be spent there, where the motoring and golfing are good. A number of secret service men and one stenographer accompanied the honeymoon couple, while the wedding suite at the Hot Springs hotel has already been connected up by direct, private telegraph wires with the White House, enabling the President to keep in direct touch with national and international developments.

Wedding Simple Ceremony

The wedding ceremony, which was a simple one, was performed at half past eight o'clock last night. The bride couple descended the stairs of the Galt home, walking together to the temporary altar and kneeling on the prayer rug beneath a canopy of flowers. The simple ceremony of the Episcopal Church was used, the bride being given away by her mother, Mrs. Bolling.

There were no attendants, no music and no ushers.

The officiating clergyman, Rev. Dr. Herbert Scott Smith, was assisted by Rev. J. H. Taylor, the pastor of the church of which the President is a communicant.

In Travelling Dress

The bride was attired in a travelling dress of black silk velvet and wore a picture beaver hat. The President's gift to his bride was a diamond neck brooch.

A buffet supper followed the wedding and the congratulations of the relatives of bride and groom and the few friends present. The bride cut the wedding cake, distributing pieces amongst the guests. Following the supper, at ten o'clock, the couple left for their train, boarding their special car attached to a special train at Alexandria in order to avoid the crowd gathered at the Union depot. The train left for the south at ten minutes after eleven.

The wedding journey began in a heavy rain.

The prayer book used in the ceremony was one which had formerly belonged to the bride's father.

President's Busy Day

The President celebrated his wedding day by extending executive clemency to several convicts in federal prisons, whose cases had been before him for pardons or commutations of sentences. He worked at his desk in the White House almost up to the wedding hour, going over the draft of the note of sharp protest and demands to be sent to Austria over the Ancona tragedy.

At noon the President, his bride-to-be and other members of his family attended the christening of his granddaughter at the White House. He paid an early call upon Mrs. Galt and then went to the bank, where he went over his personal account. After a hurried luncheon he began clearing off the pressing official business demanding his personal attention.

Although honeymooning, the President has left instructions that he is to be immediately apprised of any unusual diplomatic occurrences.

Japanese Diet In Turmoil

Assault Upon Aged Premier Is Made

(Special Cablegram to Tokyo Jiji.)

TOKIO, December 19.—For the first time in the history of the Japanese diet, members of a house attempted yesterday to do physical injury to a cabinet minister. The object of their attack was Count Okuma, premier. They did not reach him, but a wild and general fight on the floor of the chamber of deputies followed the rush at the premier.

This occurred yesterday during the debate of the deputies upon the resolution which, upon four counts, impeached the Okuma ministry: election scandals, failure of the ministry to push charges against former Count Okuma, remaining in office after resigning and investiture of the new Count Nogi with the title of the dead field marshal.

Ministry Is Upheld

This resolution was defeated by a vote of 253 to 122. K. Hara, leader of Seiyukai, one of the Opposition parties, M. Reiki, leader of Kokuminto, another of the Opposition, K. Saito of Seiyukai and K. Hamada of Kokuminto spoke for the resolution from the floor.

R. Kozuka, K. Tanomogi, S. Ogawa and S. Kanazawa made addresses against the impeachment. They are of Doshikai, the government party. Count Okuma spoke from the speaker's bench. He said, in reply to attacks upon the ministry on grounds of unconstitutionality, seeing that it had resigned but held power at command of the Emperor, that it was constitutional in all respects.

He used bitter language in denouncing the Seiyukai party.

Inflamed With Rage

Radical and hot-headed members of the Seiyukai were inflamed to rage and they rushed toward the bench with the intention of assaulting the aged premier. Doshikai members rose to block them and a free-for-all fight took place.

S. Shimada, speaker and a member of Doshikai, tried to stop the riot. He could not; finally sergeants-at-arms intervened and restored quiet.

Then the final vote was taken by the chamber of deputies. It resulted as given.

Motions To Impeach

Usually sessions of the chamber end at five o'clock in the afternoon for dinner, but the deputies continued sitting. Mr. Ooba, an independent member, introduced a resolution calling for the impeachment of Y. Ozaki, minister of justice, for failure to proceed against former Count Okuma, implicated in the election scandals, and K. Hayashi, member of the small Chuseikai party, generally of the government forces, presented an order calling for the impeachment of the ministers on the ground of unconstitutionality in remaining in office. These were some of the grounds on which the former vote was taken.

The house remained sitting at one o'clock this morning. Marquis Okuma was being protected by special guards throughout the night.

BRITISH TORPEDO

ANOTHER CRUISER

Germany Admits Loss of Bremen and Another Destroyer In the Baltic Fighting

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

BERLIN, December 19.—An official report, issued by the admiralty yesterday, confirms the claim made recently by the British that the cruiser Bremen has been torpedoed and sunk in the Baltic by a British submarine, while a German destroyer was also a victim of a British torpedo.

The admiralty report announces that many of the members of the crews of the destroyed warships were saved. The Bremen was a small cruiser of 3250 tons, armed with ten 4.1-inch guns and two torpedo tubes. She carried a crew of 286 officers and men. She was commissioned in 1904, as were her sister cruisers Hamburg, Berlin, Luebeck and Mannheim.

Germany has never knowingly accepted illegal support in the conduct of the war," says this dispatch. "The support in America has never knowingly been accepted by Germany, and this government would punish such persons as claim to be agents of Germany if America should prove them to be guilty."

More Arrests Made

Yesterday additional arrests of alleged war plotters were made by agents of the department of justice, while Captain von Papen made reservations to sail for home, having been recalled on the demand of the state department. On the Nordland, which leaves on Tuesday, Captain von Papen has taken passage on the Rotterdam, which does not sail until a week later. The state department has secured safe passage for both from the British government.

Detectives trailing the plotters seeking to destroy ships bearing ammunition for the Allies have arrested Frederick Schindler, clerk in the National Bank, on a charge of larceny of documents, the documents, it is alleged, being given the German government by him. It is alleged that Schindler worked at the direction of Paul Koenig.

Koenig, who is head of the bureau of investigation of the Hamburg-American line and Richard Lyendecker, an art goods retailer, who were arrested on Friday, are held in $50,000 and $30,000 bail respectively by the United States commissioner, being charged with conspiring to blow up the Welland Canal. Other arrests are expected to follow.

NO COMPULSION IS NEEDED FOR BRITISH

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

LONDON, December 18.—For the present at least there will be no compulsion in England as a result of the success of enlistment under the plan devised by Lord Derby. The call to the colors made upon four classes of men marked out under the Derby plan has resulted in such large enlistment that it is considered a success and obviates the need of conscription.

SAN DIEGANS HAD A WEDDING MARCH

SAN DIEGO, December 19.—At the hour of the wedding of the President and Mrs. Galt in Washington yesterday, the wedding march was played on the great organ of the exposition and the crowd joined in cheers for the President and his bride. President Davidson, by transcontinental telephone, sent the congratulations of San Diego and California to the President.

Representative Kettner, who received the congratulatory message for transmission to the President, announced over the wire that the President and Mrs. Wilson will visit the San Diego exposition some time during 1916.

GERMANY DISOWNS ALL WAR PLOTTERS

Meanwhile Arrests Continue and Recalled Attaches Start Their Farewells

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

NEW YORK, December 19.—There is no official connection between the alleged "war plotters" in the United States and the government of the Kaiser, according to a wireless message to the New York Times from an official source in Berlin.

"Germany has never knowingly accepted illegal support in the conduct of the war," says this dispatch. "The support in America has never knowingly been accepted by Germany, and this government would punish such persons as claim to be agents of Germany if America should prove them to be guilty."

More Arrests Made

WESTERN LINE IS WEATHER BOUND

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

LONDON, December 19.—It is believed that conditions on the western front will remain without change until after the first of the year, the weather conditions being such that the troops cannot be moved to advantage by either side.

It is unofficially reported that the Germans on the eastern front have commenced another drive at the Russian lines between Riga and Dvinsk, with what success is not known.

An Austro-German offensive was launched in Galicia, but was speedily checked by the Russians, who drove back the attempts to advance on the part of the Austrians, administering heavy punishment on the aggressors.

A report has reached here that the Grand Duke Nicholas is heading a Russian drive into Mesopotamia and that he has reached to within two hundred miles of Bagdad, advancing south down the Tigris valley.

BULGARS WAITING FOR GENERAL MOVE

Greece Protests Against Permanent Defense Works Being Put In At Salonika

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

LONDON, December 19.—The Bulgarian army, massing on the Serbo-Grecian frontier is estimated to be a hundred thousand strong, according to a despatch from Salonika. The correspondents there express the opinion in their despatches that the Bulgarians will not attempt an invasion of Greece independently of the Austro-Germans, but will halt temporarily to cooperate in the expected Teutonic movement against the Allies at Salonika.

The Allies are preparing strong defensive positions and are reported to be mounting big guns to sweep the shore approaches of their Salonika lines.

Greece Protests

The amount of work going forward is such, according to a Reuter despatch from Athens, that the Greek government has officially protested to the Entente against the work, which bears the character of permanent fortifications. The trench work and gun emplacements give the appearance of a permanent occupation of this section of Greek Macedonia, complains Athens.

Yesterday afternoon's despatches state that an unprecedented military situation has developed in Greece from the movements of the Allied and the Teuton-Bulgarian troops.

With the Allies falling back from Serbia and entering Greece, and the Bulgarians and Teutons pursuing them to the very border of King Constantine's territory, the situation is full of possibility. It is estimated that 200,000 soldiers of the Allies are now raising fortifications about Salonika, and apparently preparing to resist attack. They are making entrenchments and placing big guns.

A report now circulating is that the Germans are preparing to advance across Greece to attack the enemy. Whether the Bulgarians will attempt a similar incursion is a vital question to Greece. It is believed that the invasion of the Bulgarians would rekindle the old enmity of the Greeks and draw Greece into the conflict.

FORD ANNOUNCES A BASIS OF PEACE

Return To Conditions As They Were Before German Cross-ed the Belgian Line

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

LONDON, December 19.—The liner Oscar II, with Henry Ford and his party of American pacifists, reached Christiansand, Norway, yesterday, the ship docking without any ceremony, while the Norwegians gave no special reception of welcome to the peace voyagers.

Newspapermen were allowed aboard and the first interviews with the members of the party since they left New York were obtained. Mr. Ford and Madame Schimmel, the latter an Austrian peace seeker, each denied that there had been any disagreement en route, denying which the American newspapermen aboard confirmed.

Questioned by the newspapermen as to his ideas concerning the peace terms to which the belligerents should be asked to agree, the American motor manufacturer said that the basis of peace should be a return to the conditions that preceded the outbreak of the war.

It is reported that some members of the party, who are in ill health, will leave the ship at Christiansand and return to the United States.

FRANK UNGER, OF BOHEMIAN CLUB, HAS GIVEN HIS LAST GAY TOAST

Well Known Clubman, Friend of Kalakaua, Died Yesterday On Coast

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—Frank Unger, well known Bohemian Club man, who was a personal friend of the late King Kalakaua of Hawaii and had a host of acquaintances in the Islands, died here yesterday.

Scores, perhaps hundreds of Honoluluans will learn with as deep regret as do the members of San Francisco's Bohemian Club of the death of Frank Unger, writer, art connoisseur, famous storyteller and bon vivant. He had made many visits to Hawaii, coming first in the days of the monarchy and at various later times, his most recent trip being last summer, when he resided at Waikiki beach and sought in the soft air and invigorating water to check the ravages of encroaching age.

He was born in New York in early days to such men as Prince Rupert, the late Prince David, Colonel Samuel Parker, the late W. H. Cornwall, the Spreckels brothers, J. T. McCrosson and W. W. Dimond.

He was just as close companion to the wealthy men of the Bohemian Club and to others in the East, and it was no uncommon thing to learn of Frank Unger as one of a private yachting party sailing from New York for a pleasure trip to the West Indies or to Europe and the Mediterranean. He invariably took an active part in the high jinks held annually by the Bohemian Club. As art critic his knowledge was highly esteemed and his estimate much sought after. He is said to have been a prince of story tellers and a fairly good thespian.

For many years the Bohemian Club was his home, where he always was a conspicuous and prominent figure. His age, to his friends was a mystery. The despatch does not disclose it, but it is thought he must have been close to seventy. He always dressed and acted the part of a man of forty-five, and they say he always looked.

CANAL READY FOR BIG SHIPS AFTER FIRST OF THE YEAR

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

PANAMA, December 19.—Today the canal will be open to navigation by craft drawing twenty feet and under, and a number of these small vessels will make the trip from ocean to ocean. There are three of the limited draft awaiting passage from the Atlantic side, and seven ready in the Pacific for the inter-oceanic run.

It is believed that after the first of the year the regular use of the canal by vessels of all drafts will be resumed.

GREEK ELECTIONS TO BE VERY ONE-SIDED

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

ATHENS, December 19.—The election of a new parliament will take place today, but there is no doubt of the outcome and no interest in the voting. Former Premier Venizelos, who has declared the dissolution of the last parliament unconstitutional and the election without cause or purpose has advised all those who sympathize with him to take no part. There are no Venizelos candidates, therefore, and there will be no opposition to the candidates of the present ministry.

DROWNED LIKE RATS IN SPOKANE RIVER

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

SPOKANE, December 18.—Seven persons were killed and ten others injured today when a street car heavily loaded with workers going to their employment in the early morning plunged through a bridge over the Spokane river. A huge beam held the car under water while the drowned and drowning victims were plainly visible in their death-trap.

CHARLES R. COLLINS

Charles R. Collins, well known throughout the Islands, died suddenly in Kahului, Maui, yesterday morning from heart trouble, an ailment from which he had suffered for many years.

The deceased was born in London, England, on Christmas Day, 1864, and came to Hawaii about thirty-three years ago. He was a harness maker by trade and for many years conducted business in this city. Hilo and Kahului, having established himself in Maui about a year ago. He is survived by a widow and a son, and by his mother, Mrs. Eliza Collins, and two brothers, J. R. Collins and Leonard J. Collins, all of this city.

CIVIC CENTER IS VERY CLOSE NOW TO REALIZATION

Assistant Secretary Newton Cables On Situation and Attorneys For the Irwin Estate Express Their Pleasure

Indications are that the Irwin site will be selected for the federal building and that negotiations will be ended soon. These are results of a cablegram received by Malcolm A. Franklin, collector of customs, from Byron R. Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury, yesterday, which Mr. Franklin at once communicated to W. F. Fear of Fear, Prosser, Anderson and Marx, representing the Irwin estate.

Mr. Fear made a statement concerning the situation.

"I am much pleased with the progress of negotiations," he said. "It may be stated that the federal building site question is drawing toward a favorable conclusion and that negotiations will not have to continue much longer."

Further than this, Mr. Fear would not commit himself.

"I do not believe it just to Mr. Newton to give out anything more now," he said.

A question put to him was whether indications were that the Irwin site would be selected. He qualified this, with a smile, by saying, "favorable conclusion of the site question." He was asked why the qualification was made, and his reply was that Mr. Newton did not let owners of one site know what negotiations were about with owners of another, and that, accordingly, he did not wish to say further.

Civic Center Ideal

However, inasmuch as Mr. Fear represents the Irwin estate only, his assertion that a favorable conclusion was near at hand can mean nothing else than that Honolulu's wish that the building should go up near the Capitol and the Judiciary Building is about to be realized. The development will be welcomed doubly, because recently-known facts pointed to a deadlock in the negotiations because of too high a price asked by the estate, with a possibility of the building being erected elsewhere. As Mr. Franklin said, on his return from the States, where he talked with Mr. Newton, the treasury department sympathized with civic pride, but it would not pay for it. This statement was made in a letter from the assistant secretary to Mr. Franklin received on the collector's return and made public then.

Yesterday's cablegram from Mr. Newton was a reply to one sent by Mr. Franklin at the request of Mr. Fear. After a conference between the two several days ago, Mr. Franklin referred questions to Mr. Fear, saying that he was not free to make anything public, and Mr. Fear could give no definite information at that time.

On the receipt of yesterday's message, of which Mr. Fear was made cognizant at once, the statement as to the progress of negotiations was authorized.

During the deadlock, when selection of the Irwin site appeared unlikely or, at least, having great difficulties in its way, Mr. Franklin was in close touch with the situation. As stated, he talked with Mr. Newton in Washington and received authoritative word as to the attitude of the department, and his work as intermediary in sending the cablegram to Mr. Newton appears to have borne the best fruit possible.

Whether the question of price has been settled definitely cannot be ascertained, but it appears certain that it has been settled and is about to be.

CAPTAIN LYON BRINGS SHOSHONE FROM COAST

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

PORTLAND, December 19.—The steamer Shoshone, first of the vessels turned out on the Pacific for the McCormick line and she was placed in the inter-island trade. She now is the Waialeale.

The Shoshone is due here in about a week. Capt. H. B. Lyon, who took the Iwalani to Seattle, is her master, as had been conjectured.

ATTORNEY GENERAL NAMES SEVEN NOTARIES PUBLIC

Seven notaries public have been appointed and commissioned for this month by Attorney General Stainback. This activity in the notarial line is accounted for because of the fact that a number of previously appointed notaries have either resigned or died recently. Those appointed this month are: B. P. Zablan, Lowell K. Kupan and K. Y. Chung of Honolulu; George H. Vears of Hilo; Arthur A. Akua of Hilo; Kohala, Henry C. Mossman of Waialua, Maui, and Cleveland H. Dye of Waimea, Kauai.

AUSTRIA WANTS AMERICA TO GO EASY IN REPLY

Charge d'Affaires Calls Upon Lansing and Requests Another Chance For Satisfaction Over First Ancona Demands

AMERICAN REPLY REPEATS ALL CHARGES

Tone Makes It Practically An Ultimatum and Austria Is Informed What Refusal To Agree With Demand Will Imply

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

WASHINGTON, December 19.—What barely escapes being an ultimatum in its language, and which is practically an ultimatum in its tone, is said to be the American reply to the Austrian note asking for further legal rules to back up the American contention that the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona was "an illegal and indefensible act" for which the captain guilty of the deed must be punished and which Austria must disavow and agree to meet the American claims for indemnity.

So extreme is the note that the press announcements concerning it have apparently alarmed the Austrian embassy and the Austrian charge d'affaires, M. Zweidinsk, is said to have conferred with Secretary of State Lansing, asking him to make the American answer less vigorous in order to leave the way open for Austria to make a reply that will be satisfactory to the United States.

Demands Are Repeated

The note, which Secretary Lansing has read to the Austrian charge, repeats each of the American demands made in the first note and states clearly the alternative result that will follow a failure of the Austrian government to meet these demands promptly and without equivocation.

It was authoritatively stated yesterday that the two nations concerned in the sinking of the Ancona, Austria and America, are very close to the breaking point.

Doubts American Authority

The Austrian reply to the original American demands, expresses doubt as to the authority of the United States to make any demands over the sinking of an Italian liner, the property of subjects of a power with which Austria is at war. The attitude of the American government in the affair is challenged.

This much has been learned, since the formal cable reply has been decoded and put into the hands of the state department officials.

Austria challenges America's authority for the statements and furthermore denies responsibility even if the statement should be proved true. Even if the statements are correct, Austria contends, there is no warrant for placing the blame on the commander of the Austrian submarine.

Austria likewise denies that the United States can place the blame on the Austro-Hungarian government even if "the most rigorous legal construction were applied to the judgement of the case."

In the reply the foreign office at Vienna also demands a statement from Washington on the particular point of law wherein the Austrian commander or the government is alleged to have erred.
